A lady who had recently moved to the suburbs was very fond of her first brood of chickens. Going out one afternoon, she left the household in charge of her eight-year-old boy. Hefore her return a thunderstorm came up. The youngster forgot the chicks during the storm, and was dismayed, after it passed, to find that half of them had been drowned. Though fearing the wrath to come, he thought best to make a clean breast of the caiamity, rather than eave it to be discovered.

'Mamma,'' he said, contritely, when his mother had returned, "six of the chickens are dead."

"Dead!" cried his mother. "Six" How did they die?"

The boy saw his chance. "I think-I think they died happy," he said. - Harper's Weekly.

A Family Reunion, The Jamestown Exposition, Etc.

It may not be of interest to our readfrom telling about it. Some four years ago our older brother, Mr. W. P. Walter above referred to and the writer 'twas there the plan was laid to meet arranged in Georgia was carried out to a letter in the Old Dominion. Every moment of it was one of delight and the only regretable feature of it all was the ending. In the nature of things our family can not enjoy many more such reunions, for Father Time has robbed some of us of our youth, while none of us are "as young as we used to be,"

A gathering of our family so near where our parents sleep the sleep that knows no waking would not have been complete, without a visit to the old home and their graves and of course we took advantage of the opportunity. The quarter of a century since we left has caused material changes, and we are sorry to say, none for the better. A good farmer and fair business man that our father was, things in general around the place presented a different appearance in his life to what they do now.

"The hinges all have rusted, the doors have tumbled down,

And the roof lets in the sunshine and the rain." The decay of things brought about sadness of course, but 'twas soon forgotten amid the pleasures of a family reunion, which will in peers to come be an oasis in our lives. Only about 100 miles from the Jamestown Exposition and wanting to see the show, we spent a day very pleasantly there. It is a big thing and weil worth any one's time and money, but it seems trat the public does not think so. We were there on Saturday and we judge that not over 1,000 visitors were on the grounds. In the great machinery bullding our party and one lonely looking man composed the crowd. In the other large buildings sightseers were not much more numerous. The Warpath, which is to that exposition what the Midway was to the one at Chlcago and the Pike to the St. Louis Fair, looked like a banquet hall deserted. A number of the attractions were closed, presumably for lack of patronage. The Exposition is heels over head in debt and It will go down in history as the worst financial failure of the age. Of the million dollars berrowed from the government only $100,000 has been paid back and as the show lasts only a month longer and the weather is getting too cool for visitors, we predict the management will not be able to make another payment. Of course Uncie Sam ed old soul and will put off until the last the unpleasant task.

Kentucky's building, a fac-simile of "Boone's Fort," is a popular place for visitors and is the most unique State building on the grounds. Her display of products in the Agriculture and Forestry buildings is most creditable. It is under the supervision of Mr. Joseph W. Morris, of New Castie, who by the way, was exceedingly clever to us.

There is a great deal to see around the Exposition. The cities of Norfoik, Portsmouth, Berkley, Newport News, Old Point Comfort and Hampton are only a few minutes' ride from it and Soard lost a brother from the same many prefer spending a few days vis- disease. iting these places to putting in all of the time in the Exposition grounds. It is by far the most historic portion of the very historic State.

Norfolk is a flourishing city of some 75,000 inhabitants and does not impress one as being the wickedest city in the United States, but statistics show that she is, ail the same. Her bad reputation is kept up by the wicked sailors and others who lay over there between their trips on the briny deep. Norfolk is peopled by good old Virginians, the Ashland, where our sister lives, is about the size of Stanford, and is quite an educational center. It is the seat of Randolph Macon Coilege, one of the greatest institutions in the South. It is a charming little place, some 16 miles from Richmond, and many of the town's inhabitants are business men of that place, who make daily round-trips to Richmond. Mr. Willie B. Walton, formerly of Stanford, and well-known to many of our readers, is editor and owner of the Hanover Herald, published at Ashland. We are glad to state that he is prospering in the newspaper buslness. Besides being a bank director, he is connected with several other strong institutions. There should be no question about the SUCCESS OF A PLAY IN THIS CITY if it is a wholesome, brilliant story like "Monte Cristo," which will be presented here soon.

It is a noticeable fact that the OLD-FASHIONED PLAY FOUNDED UPON THE GOOD OLD-FASHIONED STORIES

entirely dis-appeared. In place of these ve have been treated to the scientific play, the social conundrum play, and the plays of a class concerning which the less sald the , better. We have also false brilliancy play, which like an imitation diamond, catches the eye, but has no intrinsic or lasting value. Then we have the production play, which is all scenery, costumes, mechanics, humbug and cheap literature. THROUGHOUT ALL THE YEARS THAT HAVE INTERVENED SINCE ALEXANDRE DUMAS! "MONTE CRISTO" was first precented THIS DRAMA HAS RETAINED ITS REMARK-ABLE POTENCY TO PLEASE. From curtain to curtain there is no abatement of interest and no letting down in enthusiasm and it must go on second that melodrama of

Office over McRoberts' Drug Store in His Re-election Is Earnestly Desired by Business Men and Shippers of Kentucky-

His Splendid Record.

In view of the importance to all the people of the office of Railroad Commissioner, attention is called to the opposition recently put forth against Hon. C. C. McChord by the petition candidate, Mr. Lew Tarlton. The democratic party nominated Mr. McChord some mouths ago; thereafter, the executive committee of the republican party met and refused to give him opposition. Nevertheless, on the evening of the very last day on which it could be done, Mr. Lew Tarlton, in disregard of the wishes of his party, as evidenced by the action of its executive committee, filed a petition with the secretary of state and has forced his name upon the ballot as the republican caudidate for Railroad Commissioner.

From the following comments from republican as well as democratic sources, it seems that Mr. Tarlton's effort to thus obtain an office will undoubtedly fail:

FROM THE LOUISVILLE TIMES (DEMOCRATIC). Regardless of political affiliation, business men of Louisville and Kentucky have indorsed the candidacy of Mr. C. C. McChord, and it is not believed in view of this fact, that he would have opposition for re-election. Mr. McChord has devoted the best part of his life to the cause of the people. He has been a staunch friend of Louisville merchants and manufac turers. He has been able to meet corporate greed with strict interpretation

The Herald holds no brief for Mr. McChord, but it would be careless of the duty it owes the public if it did not do the slumbe act of justice to an

FROM THE COURIER JOURNAL (DEMOCRATIC).

C. C. McChord, chalrman of the Kentucky Railroad Commission, was elected president of the National Association of Railroad Commissioner at its annual meeting, which has just adjourned after a four days' session The honor came to Mr. McChord unaulmously. While in Washington, D. C a large majority of the 125 delegates to the convention are republicans, there was not a dissenting voice to his election.

Considerable surprise was manifested among the delegates over the fact that Mr. McChord has opposition for re-election in Kentucky. He has proved such an ail-around, capable officer, his election to the presidency of the national convention testifying to the high regard in which ho is held, that ture Frames, Shades, Lace Curtains it was taken for granted that the republicans in Kentucky fully indorsed his

FROM THE NEWS LEADER (REPUBLICAN).

While the News Leader is republican in politics, yet it never hesitates to call attention to and to commend the work of a public official when i deserves commendation.

We do not believe the people of Kentucky have the slightest idea of defeating Hon. C. C. McChord for Railroad Commissioner. Aithough he is the democratic nominee, the regular governing authority of the re publican party, namely, its executive committee, some weeks ago refused to make a nomination against him, thereby virtually endorsing his cand! dacy; he has therefore, received the approval of the two great political parties The gentleman who has forced himself upon the republican ticket by petition has no claim upon the republican party for its support for the reason that he is not its nominee.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE BOWLING GREEN BUSINESS MEN'S PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

RESOLVED: By the Howling Green Business Men's Protective Association, FIRST: That we recognize the fact that the proper regulation of rail road rates is now the most important question before the people of Kentucky as well as the people of the United States at large,

SECOND: That the Bowling Green Business Men's Protective Association recognizes in the Hon. C. C. McChord n faithful, intelligent, efficient and honest public official, who has given great cure and study to "railroad regula tion," and who has the courage to be just to the shippers and at the same time just to the raifroads;

THIRD: That we appreciate the valuable services he has already rendered the people of Kentucky in his present position and believe that il he is permitted to continue in such position the good already accomplished is but a foretaste of the benefits of a Italiroad Commission which is not content to be a mere sinecure, but which undertakes to faithfully execute the duiles required by law;

FOURTH: We feel that the people of Kentucky could lli afford to lose the services of so able an expert as the Hon. C. C. McChord, just at this time when the question of the regulation of railroad freight rates is on trial and the people of his district are, therefore, urged to stand loyally by him In his fight for re-election.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE LUMBER DEALERS OF KENTUCKY. WHEREAS, the Hon. C. C. McChord has rendered signal service to the shippers of this state during his entire career as Railroad Commissioner, now

RESOLVED by the Louisville Lumbermen's Club of Kentucky: FIRST: That we recognize in the Hon. C. C. McChord a faithful, untir ing and incorruptible public official who by years of intelligent work and study has equipped himself to be, and now is one of the ablest railroad commissioners in the United States with the ability and courage to do justice to both shipper and carrier; SECOND: That as a club we disclaim any political allegiance with any party, our membership being composed of members of various political par-ties, but we take this action because we deem the matter one of business rather than politics, feeling that it is the duty not alone to all shippers, but also of all public spirited citizens who desire the development of our state's great natural resources to give to Mr. McChord their loyal and active sup
